

Art enthusiast Theresa Roberts entertains in spectacular fashion.

Any social do hosted at her breathtakingly gorgeous Hanover Grange abode at Tryall is, without question, a coveted invite. Getting into her home however, is a privilege few are afforded. Roberts, who jetted into The Rock from the UK for last week's state dinner for Prince Henry of Wales (always known as Harry) at King's House.

Roberts was here also for a Hello magazine shoot starring her friend Nancy Dell'Olio, along with her charming hubby Andrew Roberts, hosted a very intimate party Wednesday last at the Grange. The guest list included art dealers, models, film producers, and our very homegrown sculptor Basil Watson and art insider Pat Ramsay. SO2 takes you inside the party.
